We need you!!

You're an individual who knows your way around a paint tray and roller sleeve.

You know which paint goes where and you can explain how to put that house paint on the various different surfaces in and around the home.

You're a conversationalist and enjoy demonstrating and explaining the many tips and tricks to get the best paint finish.

You're comfortable interacting with both Professional Painter Decorators and the handy DIY home owner.

Let's face it, you enjoy painting and the satisfaction that comes from a job well done.

You're looking to join a well respected, awesome place to work and being part of a great team who are fun, hard working and passionate about the industry and the community.

You use your initiative and appreciate being listened to and you enjoy the satisfaction that your opinion matters.

You're not interested in working in a corporate structure but a real family, small business vibe.

You want job security and to be rewarded for your contribution and hard work.

You're not afraid to learn some new tricks, do a bit of heavy lifting, and getting stuck in when the shop is busy.

You're computer savvy and have good communication skills.

You've had at least 5 years painting and decorating experience, or worked in a hardware department, or you've been decorating for quite a few years and want to use your knowledge and skills to help others and give your body a rest.
